ACADEMIC QUALIFICATION

SHORT TERM SPECIALIZATION

- 2006 Specialisation in cell culture techniques: INRAN (Istituto Nazionale di Ricerca per gli Alimenti e la Nutrizione), Laboratory of the Experimental Nutrition, Rome, Italy
2004 „Manipulation and protection of the laboratory animals”, Ecole Nationale Vétérinaire de Toulouse, France
2000 „Spécialisation in PCR techniques” Institut National de la Recherche Agronomique, Lab. of Pharmacology – Toxicology, Toulouse, France

PRESENT ORGANISATION AND POSITION

National Institute for Research and Development in Nutrition and Animal Biology, Laboratory of Animal Biology
- Senior researcher

SCIENTIFIC ACTIVITY

My expertise in the feed/food field is mainly in the domains of nutrition and immunology.

I have competences in the following areas: animal nutrition (swine), cell cultures (primary and stabilized cell lines), swine immunology (innate and acquired immune response) toxicology (mycotoxins, other food contaminants), acquired during more than 10 years of experience.

During the last years I was involved in the coordination of 2 national projects: CEEX 14951 (2005-2008), IDEI 1373 (2009-2012) and I participated in international projects, as a member of the INCDBNA team: FP6 projects: Feed For Pig Health (506144); Healthy feed for safety, SEEFOOD, (043077); collaborative international projects: Network research training between France and Central and Eastern Europe, BRANCUSI (France and Romania): (2001-2004; 2005-2008) and ECO-NET (France, Romania, Slovenia and Poland) (2006-2007). I participated also as a young researcher in the FP6 program: „Training and mentoring early career scientist from candidate, associated and Mediterranean countries in a food chain approach to quality and safety” coordinated by European Association for Animal Production (2005-2008).

In the present I am the member of the editorial team and reviewer of our Institute Journal (Arhiva Zootehnica). I am also reviewer for some international journals: Journal of Food Biochemistry; Journal of Animal Physiology and Animal Nutrition; Environmental Biotechnology.
